Community Spirit is Banquet Keynote

Large Attendance at Affair to Victorious Team

The account of last Tuesday night's dinner to the baseball club must be a tale without frills. It was a good solid civic occasion. Mirth and melody were there, to be sure, but as the evening advanced it was plain that these hard-headed men had a regard for their home town that was splendid to contemplate. There was no question of the outstanding impression that the achievement of our local club in winning the Main Line Pennant was quite in accord with the inspiring impulse which governs Narberth progress, that whatever we do, we must do exceedingly well. The spirit of the evening was irresistible and it was a joy and a delight to be there.

The guests of the evening included "Lou" Young, the Pennsylvania football coach, and Stoney Melinn, the sports editor of the "Evening Ledger," and the son of the esteemed reverend gentleman who is ministering to the spiritual needs of the Lutherans in Narberth. What they had to say indicated that they had quickly discerned the keynote of the gathering, maybe were overwhelmed by it, and there is little doubt as result of it all that "Lou" will build that house on the Narberth lot which he owns and that Stoney will frequently occupy that downy bed which is ever at his call in his father's household. A motion is made to put both of these wholesome and effective gentlemen on our Assessor's list forthwith.

Fletcher Stites was also there, of course he was, and the address of this neighbor of wide affairs left no doubt that the affection and esteem which he expressed for our sturdy borough were built on bed-rock and sound convictions. It rang true-blue, every word of it, and was utterly bereft of any trace of mawkish sentiment. A precious asset indeed is Fletcher, and long may he live amongst us.

Other speakers included Robert J. Nash, the President of the club and toastmaster of the evening. Nothing is muffled when this future Burgess holds the reins. We must utilize him to the utmost. The chairman of the Recreation Board, Robert G. Savill, proclaimed the aims and aspirations of his committee in the development of the playground and expressed the hope that the citizens would approve an additional $15,000 expenditure toward the plan of making our outdoor centre the finest thing of its kind in all America. The enthusiasm which greeted his request recorded universal approval of this splendid project.

Messrs. Shand, Cabrey, Edgar, Miller, and Howard also expressed their conception of the fundamentals of civic progress. Mr. Howard's remarks particularly being highly pertinent to the occasion. In fervid terms he ran the whole gamut of human emotions, swaying his auditors to and fro as he vigorously declared the needs of the time, and establishing forevermore that the Narberth oratorical monopoly is now broken and that no local organization need worry for forensic talent when Fletcher is away. Mr. Howard wishes it to be known, however, that whilst he is disposed to be thoroughly co-operative, circumstances make it necessary for him to request all committees requiring his services as a speaker to give him at least four hours' notice, and that on account of the intrusion which public speaking engagements make on his regular business, all broadcasting rights are reserved by him.

The distribution of the beautiful souvenirs to the ball players, gold bats for use as watch charms, was made by Bill Crowell, and those who heard him talk could easily comprehend why the Narberth boys maintained their handsome stride the whole season through. There was something nice for Bill himself and also for Sam Wisler, Charlie Harnden, Billy Newborg and Bob Compton, the hard-working quartet which worked back-stage in such a thorough fashion on the countless details which make real baseball possible. Narberth never wants for the right man in the right place.

Nearly one hundred and fifty men were present.

Don't forget November 11th to 29th, the American Red Cross Annual Ball. Call. Anyone wishing to help please send name and address to Mrs. J. E. Caldwell, Bryn Mawr.

Bright Prospects for Choral

New Interest Manifest in Plans for Season

The new Board of Directors of the Choral Society have had their first meeting and begun the work of planning for the coming season. The meeting was 100 per cent. attended and marked by numerous suggestions for increasing the popular appeal of the Society while maintaining the same high standards that have prevailed in its work in the past.

Mr. Clarence C. Nice, who has so successfully directed the Society since its organization and who recently resigned on account of increasing professional demands upon his time, was elected an honorary Vice-President.

A committee was appointed to interview applicants for the position of Director and report at the next meeting of the Board on October 29th.

The significant thing in the affairs of the Choral Society is a definite revival of interest in this worthy community enterprise and the enthusiasm that is already manifest for the current season. It is planned to introduce some attractive social features in connection with the business meetings, the next of which will be held upon November 5th. This will be an open meeting for all old active, sustaining and associate members and for prospective members, at which plans for the coming season will be discussed and whittled into shape for final action at the next meeting on December 3rd.

The first meeting of the active chorus will be held on January 7th following a banquet of all the members of the Society. This will be a big occasion and will serve to start the Society off with a bang. A short season of about 15 weeks is contemplated with two concerts, the first of a miscellaneous character with a strong popular appeal to be followed by a more ambitious production as a climax.

President Frye states it will be the policy of his administration to put the decision as to the affairs of the Society squarely up to the members attending the business meetings, and that he expects at these meetings a representative attendance of associate and sustaining members as well as active members. Plans are being matured for placing the finances of the Society upon a more stable basis which will relieve all uncertainty and worry in this respect and obviate the necessity of active members having to sell tickets for the concerts.

It is a source of great satisfaction to all community music lovers and boosters to be assured of the continuation of the Narberth Choral Society with such bright prospects for a highly successful season.

KNUTZEN-KERCHER.

Mr. Bjarne Bernard Knutzen, of 202 Forest avenue, was married on Wednesday evening, October 10th, to Miss Elsie Marguerite Kercher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James S. Kercher, of West Philadelphia.

The wedding took place at the Gethsemane Lutheran Church, Sixtieth street and Westminster avenue, Philadelphia. The Rev. Henry Moehling, pastor of the church, officiated at the ceremony, which was followed by a family reception at the bride's home.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and was attended by her sister, Miss Marie F. Kercher, as maid of honor, and by Miss Tillie Mehl and Miss Cecilia L. Knutzen, as bridesmaids. Mary Kercher, the bride's niece, acted as flower girl. Mr. Thomas E. Knutzen served as best man for his brother. The ushers were Mr. Robert Kercher, Mr. Philip M. Knutzen, Mr. Fred Evans and Mr. Ralph Lonesdale. Many Narberth friends were present at the ceremony and the church, which was prettily decorated with ferns and palms, was filled to capacity.

On returning from their wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Knutzen will reside in Narberth.

ATTEND CONVENTION

Narberth was well represented at the Convention of the Montgomery County Federation of Women's Clubs held at Ambler Thursday.

The Colony Club of Ambler were hostesses, and eight members of the Women's Community Club of Narberth went as representatives. These were: Mrs. E. C. Batchelor, Mrs. A. B. Ross, Mrs. Harry A. Jacobs, Mrs. Jessie S. Harris, Mrs. Eberhardt Mueller, Mrs. Neal Anderson and Mrs. William Livingston.

Juniors in Another Fine Meeting

Girls Taking Place Among Leading Town Groups

Some busy little bird must have whispered to the members of the Junior Section of the Women's Community Club of the treat in store, for about thirty-five girls assembled at the home of Miss Marion Trotter, Thursday evening, October 18th, to partake of the "hot dogs" so skillfully prepared and served by Mrs. Wm. Durbin and her capable assistants, Mrs. Wm. Freiz and the Misses Jane Laird and Dorothy Durbin.

As everyone knows, the enjoyment of a fat and juicy "hot dog," surrounded by a "crunchy" roll, is dependent entirely upon the spirit of conviviality present in the company. The hostesses, therefore, were most fortunate in having as the main feature of the program several recitations by our well-known and talented townswoman, Mrs. George M. Davis. There are no gloom clouds which her infectious laughter and vivacious personality cannot dispel, though be it said to the credit of the members, that this club is rarely in need of anyone for just that purpose.

Mrs. Neal Anderson, recently appointed by the Women's Community Club to fill the position of Senior Adviser to the younger branch, made her debut in that capacity this evening. Since Mrs. Anderson entered upon her new task brimming over with enthusiasm and ideas for constructive, instructive and lucrative plans for the season, her presence was a source of gratification.

Miss Emma Mueller was appointed chairman in charge of tickets for the Movie Benefit to be given at the Palace Theatre, Ardmore, on October 29th. This affair is being run by the Senior Club, the proceeds to benefit their Building Fund. Any Junior member "feeling the urge" to attend a good show on that date can secure the necessary pasteboards of admittance from Miss Mueller or any member of the Senior organization.

A novelty in the way of a Halloween party on November 1st will take the place of the regular meeting scheduled for that date. Those of you who have attended former parties given by the club have some slight inkling of the pleasure in prospect. To those of you who are newcomers, we can only say, "Come early to avoid the rush!" The club reporter has promised to scurry around this week in an endeavor to lift some small portion of the veil of secrecy surrounding the "big doings" planned for that night. His findings will appear in next week's issue of "Our Town." Watch for them!

RUMMAGE SALE.

The Evangel Circle of King's Daughters will hold a rummage sale November 6. Save your discarded clothing, rugs, carpets, furniture, pictures and glassware. Anything in the house-furnishing or wearing apparel is acceptable.

NEW STORE

Miss Jennie Small has opened a new millinery and notions store on Essex Avenue, near the corner of Haverford. The new shop will specialize in millinery for adults and children, shirtwaives, hosiery underwear and children's dresses.

Miss Small has had a number of years' experience in the millinery department of a large Philadelphia store.

WE'LL BE THERE!

Tickets are selling thick and fast for the "movie" benefit for the Women's Community Club of Narberth to be given at the Ardmore Theatre on Monday, October 29. The dancers, secured through the kindness of Professor Walter Wroge, are high class and well worth the price of admission. "Salome Jane," the feature picture, is also quite an attraction, and it is expected that a full house of your neighbors and friends will be on hand. Why not you?

Social Evening at St. Margaret's

First Affair Held by Holy Name Society

The first of a series of entertainments under the auspices of St. Margaret's Holy Name Society was held in the Parish Hall on last Wednesday evening, and the splendid program received the hearty and cordial acclaim of the several hundred men who were present. Mass singing was directed by Billy Lawrence, coach of the Minstrels, who also indulged in a mirthful monologue, Jack Kelly, in response to a thunderous demand, was persuaded to sing as only he can sing it, "Yes, We Have No Bananas." It will be recalled that Mr. Kelly was the first to sing this maddening melody, and it is a great compliment and tribute to his irresistible personality and force of character that he only feels it occasionally necessary to put a gun in his pocket as he goes out on the streets, as not more than two or three serious efforts have been made to take his precious life.

A number of excellent entertainers were also present from Philadelphia and their highly enjoyable efforts were ably supplemented by the versatile Sebastian Rudolph, who played and sang with an abandon which even residents in Wynnewood Manor cannot over- come.

The audience was addressed by Edward J. Daly, President of the Holy Name Union, who indicated the great progress of the society and its aspirations for a membership of 100,000 men in the Philadelphia Archdiocese. He also outlined the plans for observing the 650th anniversary of the founding of the Society, which will be held in 1924.

The social evenings of St. Margaret's Society are under the supervision of the officers, Mr. Haughey, Mr. Becker, Mr. O'Brien, and Mr. Lananah, and they want to emphasize the fact that all men of the parish, whether they are members of the society or not, are always very welcome.

WELFARE TEAMS FORMED

The teams which will be in charge of the Welfare Drive in Narberth have been formed and district chairmen appointed. The drive will take place from October 24th to November 5th.

The following women are in charge of the three districts into which Narberth has been divided:

District Chairman, Mrs. Franklin D'Olier.

North Side—Mrs. Fletcher Stites, 413 Laverford Road, Narberth 372-W; Mrs. Edwin C. Town, Mrs. Fred E. Derby, Mrs. Romaine C. Hoffman, Miss Ida Buckman, Mrs. A. W. Ward, Mrs. Leroy A. King, Mrs. Leroy C. Douglass, Mrs. F. Dinwiddie Walker, Miss Mairie Simpson and Miss Edith Gara.

South Side—Mrs. James W. Darville, Merion and Essex Ave., Narberth 1772; Mrs. Hugh Speed, Mrs. C. P. Fowler, Mrs. E. C. Griswold.

Narbrook Park—Mrs. George A. Mahl, 20 Narbrook Park, Narberth 1714-R; Mrs. W. H. Donaldson, 34 Narbrook Park.

Philadelphia is fortunate in having such a system. Before the organization of a central collecting agency for charities and hospitals and other money-needing organizations, as high as 37% of the money collected sometimes went for soliciting expenses. The soliciting now costs only 4%. Formerly, the time of the Board meetings of various welfare institutions was taken up with the all-important question of the necessity of raising money. Now, they can discuss what is fundamentally more important—the possibility of increasing the efficiency of their work. Another benefit is that the public is annoyed less frequently by solicitations.

Donors can indicate the institution to which they wish their money to be given. It is distributed on a budget system. Each institution gives an estimate of its needs in advance and presents it to the Welfare Committee. So far, the full quota has been raised each year, but it has meant harder work than should be necessary.

Practically every institution in this neighborhood, with the exception of the Bryn Mawr Hospital, co-operates in this. The hospital receives a great deal each year from the Bryn Mawr Horse Show.

Women Open Year With Crowded Club Luncheon

Many Speakers at Annual Opening Affair Tuesday

For the benefit of those unfortunates who were not able to be present, we want to say that the luncheon with which the Women's Community Club of Narberth opened its 1923-1924 year was an event which will be long remembered by all who attended. This is the first affair of its kind at which the Club could not accommodate all those desiring to be present. The hospitality committee and its aides are to be congratulated on the beautiful decorations in the club room and on the excellent luncheon, prepared and served by McAllister, caterer.

After the luncheon, the new club chorus rendered several songs which were received with enthusiastic applause. The President, Mrs. A. B. Ross, then addressed the Club, and presented the first speaker, Mrs. Montrose Graham Tull, the new President of the Philomusian Club. Mrs. Tull spoke on the importance of being brief, saying that brevity gives us inspiration and the delightful opportunity to dig some information out for ourselves.

Mrs. Richard Hamilton, Chairman of the County Federation, was next introduced, and gave a splendid talk on club organization and club ethics. She laid particular stress on the balancing of the programs in the clubs, so that they might be half practical and half cultural, in this manner becoming interesting to all the members. Mrs. Hamilton also spoke of the value of punctuality and the need of regard for our club laws.

The value of the Federation of Women's Clubs was shown by Mrs. Louis Dick, who attributed much of the success of the various clubs to the strength of this union.

The Hathaway Shakespeare Club was represented by Mrs. Purnell, who gave an interesting bit of information about the proposed "Jane Campbell Scholarship" at State College. Mrs. Purnell spoke enthusiastically of the number of clubs who were coming forward so readily with contributions. The cultivation of beauty and carrying qualities in the voice as an asset to every club woman was another theme on which she spoke.

The Narberth Club was much praised by Mrs. Roberts, President of the New Century Club, who mentioned the many fine things it has done. Mrs. Roberts caused much amusement when she likened us to the obliging chameleon, who in his effort to please and live up to his reputation, burst when he was placed on a piece of Scotch plaid. The secret of the unrest of the times was another thought she gave to her listeners, saying that the uniform desire and search for happiness was at the bottom of many of our troubles.

One of the most brilliant and entertaining talks of the afternoon was that of Miss Gertrude Ely, County President of the League of Women Voters. Miss Ely praised the activity of the women of Narberth at the polls on the last primary election, and spoke of the vast number of men and women who do not take the trouble to either register or vote. She evoked much laughter in relating an incident witnessed by her of a man who tried to get around the very important civic duty of serving on a jury, by answering loudly in the affirmative when the Judge very quietly inquired if he were deaf. "If the people cared very much what was going on in the world," Miss Ely said, "we would not have wars."

Last, but by no means least, Mrs. Prentiss Nichols, who surely needs no introduction to the club members, also praised the Narberth Club both on its

A LIGHTED STREET.

Among Narberth's needs, and one easy of accomplishment, is a better lighting of our business section. There is not much actual business in the evening, but that is scarcely a reason for Haverford avenue looking like a tomb.

The most satisfactory way of accomplishing the brightening of the street is by keeping the window lights going, at least until midnight. An example of what may be done is seen in the office of the Narberth Coal and Building Material Company. At the present time, in addition to a light in the window during the night, they have arranged a most attractive window exhibit.

Mr. Dando keeps a bright light going in front of the Imperial Grocery every evening, which helps to brighten up that part of the street, but later in the evening, after White's, the drug stores and Davis' are closed, the gay white way is a rather dismal place.

The suggestion does not involve a great expense. A few cents an evening will accomplish it, and if it can be accompanied by a series of attractive and original window displays, we will have a business section to be proud of.

If the merchants do not wish to have the lights running all night, it is a simple matter to rig up an alarm clock switch to shut the light off at 12 or 1 o'clock.

This is a simple matter for each merchant, but in the aggregate it will be a big thing. The sleepy and darkened main street belongs to some back-country village, not to the suburb of a great city.

In a way, it is a business matter—a form of advertising. But that isn't the major consideration; it is a matter of public improvement.

Let's brighten up.

Letters to the Editor

THE ASHCAN IMBROGLIO.

To the Editor of "Our Town":

The nonsensical regulation compelling the use of metal containers for the removal of ashes was inaugurated, after a week's unexplainable delay, with a woeful disregard and lack of consideration on the part of residents. Never in the recollection of the writer was there such a heterogeneous collection of nondescript galvanized buckets and rusty, dilapidated-looking and battered wash boilers as were exhibited in this supposedly progressive and up-to-date town in order to comply with the mandate of our worthy Borough Fathers.

In a number of cases the majority of the ash collections remained untouched, obviously due to citizens ignoring the circular's decree, thereby causing parts of the borough to resemble the unsanitary, disgraceful and dangerous dump on Price avenue, near Montgomery pike, which is a menace to life and property. In other instances the improvised containers were utterly disregarded, notably the writer's, and the unsightly collection will remain an eyesore another week.

Could not Council appoint an official who would devote all of his time attending to the duties pertaining to his position and who would judiciously, impartially and without discrimination, decide whether an old tin bucket with a handle and a rusty old wash boiler edged with Duchess lace would pass inspection as meeting with the specifications as promulgated by the manifesto? Also would it not be a idealistic innovation, if such an office were created, to bestow a title commensurate with such an omnipotent position as "Arbiter Elegantiarum of the Old Tin Buckets and Rusty Wash Boilers?" If such a position were created a suitable uniform could be adopted, such as worn by the City Troopers or the Royal British Grenadiers, with all their gorgeous trappings and gewgaws. The writer would be highly complimented if offered such an exalted office with the above euphonious appellation, but "he's got a job"—he does not want another.

May the utopian work go on for the betterment of the borough beautiful, even if the undersigned and a few others cannot afford it.

Note—Owing to the belligerent attitude of the better half of the family, the collectors condescended to remove the ashes, which have been disfiguring the lawn for the last week.

Lower Merion H. S.

Lower Merion's total of football points for the present season advanced to 164 when the fast-stepping suburban grid team met the eleven from Cheltenham last Friday, and its total of victims went up one notch to four. This is another way of saying that Lower Merion beat Cheltenham, which was its fourth opponent of the season, by a 31-0 score, and thus "ante-d" up its total, which stood at 133 for the previous week.

A unique feature about this point matter is that while the township school has made near 200 points on its opponents, the teams that have played against L. M. H. S. did not cross its line once. No other scholastic eleven in the Philadelphia vicinity can boast of such a record.

Here is how the victims fell, along with the dates of the casualties:

Sept. 21—Lower Merion, 52; Upper Darby, 0.

Sept. 29—Lower Merion, 12; Germantown, 0.

Oct. 5—Lower Merion, 69; Berwyn High, 0.

Oct. 12—Lower Merion, 31; Cheltenham, 0.

Totals—Lower Merion, 164; Opponents, 0.

This Friday, the football team plays Abington High away. Abington, coached by Lou Little, former Penn star, always puts up a clever game, but the Lower Merionites, while conceding for the sake of argument that Abington might be able to stop their eleven somewhat in its scoring rampage, have not the slightest doubt as to whom the final victor will be.

A large crowd will accompany the grid warriors in their invasion of Abington territory. The line-up for Lower Merion, it is expected will be the same this week as in the last few games. Peterson will start at left end, Down at left tackle, Hill at left guard, Barr at center, Lockwood at right guard, Keon at right tackle, Folwell Scull at right end, Derham at quarterback, Peabody at left half, Paul Scull right half, and Fleming fullback.

Preparations are already being made for the annual football game with Radnor High School, which this year will take place on Saturday, November 24, in Ardmore. Radnor is ye olde and ancient rival, and when it comes to town or when L. M. goes a visiting out Radnor way, things begin to warm up and get interesting.

Much of this warming up and injection of interest is done by the supporters of teams by means of cheers and songs. In fact, the singing and the cheering are as vital a part of the game as the actual playing. The Lower Merion rooters have to tell their Radnor opponents just what they intend to do with them, and they would feel pretty bad about it if they were not able to out-sing Radnor when Radnor came right back and started to tell L. M. how mistaken it was.

Hence the singing part of the game is an important one. "Q. E. D." as the geometry prof would say. Therefore much attention should be given to the songs and the preparation thereof, and that preparation is already being started. Now that that long-winded explanation is out of the way, here are the facts.

Songs for the Radnor game were turned in by a number of students last week. These will go before a students' committee on Monday afternoon, which will pick four or five of the best. The committee which will do the picking is composed of Folwell Scull, football captain; Bud Mallin, head cheer leader; Charles Peterson, who represents the Students' Council, and is advised by Miss Holland, English teacher.

The officers of the School Orchestra were announced in the auditorium this week. The President is Harold Schuman, a violinist.

The officers of the Sophomore Dramatic Club have also been announced.

They are: President, Ivan Gould; Vice-President, Katherine Timlin; Secretary and Treasurer, Mary Payne; Faculty Advisor, Miss Dillon.

The purpose of the organization is to give one play a month before the school assembly. Due to the slowness in getting organized this year, however, no play will be given for this month.

The rehearsal of football songs for the Radnor game will be started next Tuesday, the day after the selection of the songs by the students' committee is made, and will continue until the week of the big game. Rehearsals of songs will be held weekly on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Fridays.

New cheer rehearsal periods were announced this week. Henceforth for the football season Seniors will rehearse cheers on Tuesdays during the noon hour, Juniors on Wednesdays, Sophomores on Thursdays and all three sections on Fridays.

Lower Merion is determined to sink Radnor in the annual game this year. A cup presented by Mr. J. L. Kilpatrick, formerly of Bala but now of New York, is another incentive in addition to the keen rivalry between the two schools. The school that wins the trophy three times out of five retains the cup. Lower Merion won the first leg last year, when it defeated Radnor by a 3-0 score.

The current events talks before the morning assemblies will be started next week by the history classes. Each class gives a program. Four students are assigned topics of current interest and the talks are given before the Tuesday morning assembly session.

The first of the quarterly report will be issued on Friday, November 16, just prior to the Radnor game and Thanksgiving Day. Announcement of the date of the first report was sent out by the superintendent's office in Ardmore this week to all the township schools.

The attendance at the Cheltenham game last week was about 3000. This was slightly below the attendance at previous games. A larger turnout is expected for the Abington scrap this Friday.

SIXTEEN MILLION CARS IN 1925?

Three hundred motor cars were registered in the United States in 1895. In 1925, thirty years after, the number will be in excess of 16,000,000.

This is not a prophecy, but a continuation of a table of registrations. In the ten years from 1913 to date, the table of motor car registrations in hundred thousands, reads as follows: 12, 17, 24, 35, 51, 61, 73, 91, 104, 123.

It is hardly prophecy to say that the next two years will show figures of 140 and 160 hundred thousand or 14,000,000 and 16,000,000 cars registered.

It is inevitable that these cars have more and more good roads to run upon. If this number of wheeled vehicles congest our few hundred thousand miles of good roads, it is obvious that a greater number will compel more and more hard-surface highways.

Opposition to good roads comes from two sources: the ignorance of taxpayers, who think that the bond issue or the road tax represents outgo, instead of the means of increased income, and politicians, who desire "pork barrel" national legislation in order to get votes, rather than money to be spent upon roads.

Both classes of opposition are slowly but surely being steam-rollered out of existence, with the automobile in the role of steam roller.

LEADS OPERA

As previously announced, this Opera will be conducted by one of the Main Line Community Leaders, Prof. Clarence C. Parents, be sure you bring your children to this beautiful fairy opera on the afternoon of Wednesday, Oct. 24, at 2.30 o'clock at the Metropolitan Opera House. It is a rare opportunity for your children to learn the best of music and enjoy it at the same time.

growth and its power to weld the community into one interest.

Her talk was on the Women's National Committee for Law Enforcement. She laid emphasis on the great things which can be done when women come together as a body for the good of the country, and the importance of our reverence for the laws of the nation. The late President Harding was quoted as saying that the Eighteenth Amendment to the Constitution had become an issue on whether the laws of this country could or could not be enforced. "A great many people do not seem to realize that the Eighteenth Amendment is a law past the debatable point, and an effort should be made by all of us to discourage lightness and flippancy about this law," said Mrs. Nichols. She expressed the hope that the club Presidents would make this subject a big issue in the coming club year.

The event was concluded by Mrs. Ross, who extended her thanks to the hospitality committee for the able manner in which the affair was handled, and also for the courage of tea roses which was presented to her.

RECORDS FOR YEAR

Samuel Wisler, Business Manager of the Narberth Baseball Club, has prepared an interesting analysis of the batting scores for the year.

Mickey Burns played in the highest number of games, 59, batting nearly .400. A glance at the batting records gives an insight into the reason why Narberth ran away with her opponents.

YOUR INTEREST IN HOT WATER

A bath a day is now considered necessary in most American homes. Plenty of hot water is needed for housecleaning. There are the dishes to wash three times a day. There is the family washing once a week. Surely, no other thing in the home is more necessary than plenty of hot water.

With a Sands Storage Automatic Gas Water Heater you can have all the piping hot water needed for all household purposes at very little cost. See a demonstration at our showroom. Price of heater only $130, installed, payable $10 down and $10 a month.

THE LIBRARY

The Community Library has now served the people of Narberth for two and a half years. Book-cases have been bought and bookcases have been borrowed and still the books overflow.

Some weeks ago the files showed that the two thousand mark had been reached. It has indeed become a real library.

The latest work undertaken by the librarians is that of mending books. It is a tribute to the authors that these books have been read by so many and in spite of amateur bindings, the books will still serve for a long while.

In the meantime new books are coming in and there is one that deserves very special mention. It is called "Doctor Dolittle's Post Office," and won the Newberry Medal for the most distinguished contribution to American literature for children in 1922.

Because it was written for children doesn't mean, however, that the grown-ups will not want to read it. The prediction is that when it once gets into a home, the young folks will have to fight for it, as father and mother will have become so interested in it that they won't give it up.

Doctor Dolittle lived in Puddleby-on-the-Marsh. But as he was returning home from a trip to West Africa, chance brought him to the Kingdom of Fantippo. Here the post office was in chaos. A few years before the King had had stamps printed with his very prettiest portrait on them, and had had post boxes put on the streets, but the mail was never collected, as the King thought that the stamps were magic and would move the letters without human aid. So Dr. Dolittle promised to stay in Fantippo and show the King how a post office should be run. He sent for postman's uniform, but as it was too hot in Africa to wear many clothes, the letter carriers only wore the hats and a string of beads.

The story tells how the Africans were not satisfactory as letter-carriers, so the Doctor called his bird friends together and employed them. "Cheapside," the London sparrow, had charge of the city mail, because he was used to city streets, and the other birds as they migrated, carried foreign mail and parcel post.

The postal service became very popular partly because the Dr. served ten every day at four (so everyone bought stamps at 4 P. M.) and partly because the glue on the stamps was made from licorice, and tasted so good that the people bought stamps because they liked the flavor.

Before the Dr. returned to Puddleby-on-the-Marsh, he meets a very smart white mouse and a turtle who was on the Ark with Noah.

But read it, either to yourself or aloud to your children. It is a delightfully entertaining and fanciful tale.

PRAISES ADVERTISING

Mrs. A. J. Herrschaft, of 318 Dudley Avenue, conducts her dressmaking business from her home, relying on advertising largely to extend her business. Recently she expressed the value of "Our Town" as a medium with the words, "They are coming to me from all directions, even as far as Bryn Mawr, through the assistance of your valuable paper." The same report has come to us from many other advertisers.

Mrs. Herrschaft has extended her hemstitching and art needlework business to include children's smocking, notions and general dressmaking.

HEALTH WORK GROWS

Health teaching in the public schools today has become a fine art. No longer is the old-fashioned "physiology lesson," with its diagrams of the heart, lungs and the brain, considered all-sufficient. In this field, "book learning" has been made to take a back seat, and a vital health message, teaching the rules of right living, wholesome eating, exercise and fresh air, has taken its place.

Teachers of Delaware County have been quick to adopt modern health teaching methods to their classrooms. But in order to have a real scientific knowledge of their subject, the Delaware County Teachers' Association has planned "Health Day" to be held October 20th. The session will last all day and will take place in the Oakmont High School auditorium. Many teachers from schools throughout the county plan to attend.

In the morning, there will be a discussion of health teaching methods for the primary and elementary grades, led by Miss Aubyn Chinn, of the Nutrition Department of the Inter-State Dairy Council. This is the third year the Dairy Council has co-operated with the Main Line Schools in conducting the health program. Two demonstration lessons will be given with the pupils of the second grade of the Llanerch School. The "Mask Story" with the children taking the part of characters in the story, told by the health worker, and the "Basket of Fruit," a game played by the children, will be given.

In the afternoon, a beautiful pageant, "The Garden of Hours," picturing the healthful way of spending a day, will be enacted by a cast of pupils from the Oakmont High School. (Names of the cast may be obtained from Mr. Huff.)

Luncheon will be served the teachers at the High School lunch room.

Mr. Joseph Huff, superintendent of the Haverford Township Schools, will be in charge.

It is interesting to know that most of the public schools of the Main Line are already using the newest and most attractive features of the modern health program as taught by nutrition workers of the Inter-State Dairy Council.

JOIN WELFARE COMMITTEE.

The Main Line Citizens' Association is now a member of the Welfare Federation of Philadelphia.

The Federation is now about to start its drive. All the community should be willing to help make this a success.

Every member of the Main Line Citizens' Association will be solicited for funds, and it is hoped that our members will bear this in mind when making their contribution to the Welfare Federation.

TO VOTE ON BONDS.

If Issue Carries State Will Help Counties on Roads.

At the November election, the citizens of the State will be asked to vote for an amendment to the State Constitution proposing another $50,000,000 good roads bond issue.

If carried, the amendment will authorize an increase in the bonded indebtedness of the State of $100,000,000 for road construction. In 1918, the voters authorized the first issue of road bonds in the amount of $50,000,000 by a majority of 262,000. All of that money has been spent for road construction.

Should the new issue of $50,000,000 be authorized, the State Highway Department will match $10,000,000 with the various counties on a fifty-fifty basis for construction and reconstruction where justified. Thus roads of secondary importance will be improved to the extent of some $20,000,000.

Pennsylvania took the lead among all the States of the Nation in road construction immediately following approval of the first $50,000,000 road bond issue of 1918. There are 10,325 miles of road in the State highway system, of which 5,277 have been improved. There are 5,048 miles of unimproved highway.

"The product of Power and Light Companies is in increasing demand, as this is a basic necessity. They do business on a cash basis, and never suffer a loss on inventories, because they have no goods to carry. Earnings are permanent because their rates are fixed by the Public Utilities Commission. Capitalizations are sound, for they are controlled by the commission." Phone or send for list of selected Public Utility Bonds and descriptive circulars.

It is proposed by the State Highway Department to set to work immediately on the unimproved roads should the electors of the Commonwealth approve the amendment making the bond issue possible.

Provision was made by the last Legislature for immediate construction and improvement if the funds are provided. The Assembly enacted a law detailing the procedure to be followed in selling the bonds, so that no time would be lost in financing new construction.

An entirely new body design lends distinction in appearance, adds measurably to individual comfort, and provides greater convenience in the new Ford Coupe.

Streamline body, windshield visor, and nicked fittings make this new Coupe highly attractive. Deeply cushioned seats, improved interior arrangement, and cow ventilator provide increased comfort.

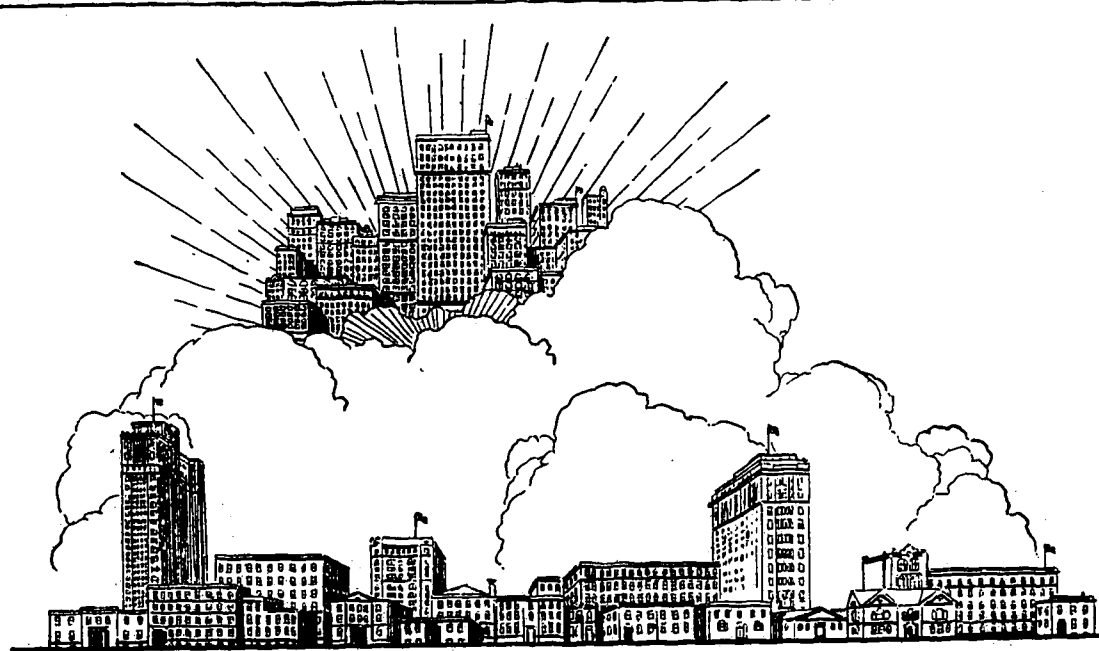

Wide doors that open forward, revolving type window lifters, enlarged rear compartment and a recess shelf for parcels, back of the seat make for greater convenience.

Twenty-Two New Buildings

That's only one phase of the construction program we're working on this year in Pennsylvania.

It does not include 30 large additions to other Bell Telephone Buildings in the state.

And in 1924 our expenditures for building operations will be greater than this year.

The staggering demand for telephones—more and more telephones—has brought about the greatest telephone construction program ever attempted in one year.

This year we are adding 76,000 telephones; some ten millions of dollars' worth of new switchboards and other Central Office equipment; half a million miles of new wire.

With just one purpose in view—to keep pace with the needs of the people of this state for communication facilities.
